

When Timeless Scandinavian Design meets Parisian Elegance

Nine exclusive and timeless designs translate the enigmatic dance of the wind into wearable pieces of art. Discover Julia Otilia's new 'Swirling Wind Collection' now, the Swedish designer's most luxurious collection to date.

Enchanted by the City of Love

Surrounded by iconic Hausmannian buildings, with the emblematic Eiffel Tower at a distance and a plethora of renowned museums waiting to be explored. It doesn't take much to be enthralled by the old nostalgic soul of Paris. Whether you are attending an opera at the magnificent Palais Garnier, enjoying an exquisite cheese board paired with a glass of wine at a Bistro or simply daydreaming about your next Paris getaway, Julia Otilia's Swirling Wind collection was designed to celebrate these precious and fleeting moments of beauty and delight. Encapsulating love, femininity and pure elegance, each piece is unique and handcrafted with pristine savoir-faire by the designer herself.

For the Love of Nature

Everything at Julia Otilia begins and ends with the divinity of nature. Nature is the focal point, a mesmerising, endless source of inspiration. For the creation of her Swirling Wind Collection, the designer has spent her summers in the Swedish Archipelago studiously observing and tracing the effortless and graceful movements of the wind. The result shows elegant long lines and soft, organic shapes that perfectly capture the swift and eternal motions in a signature design. In alignment with her belief that “true beauty shouldn’t come at the expense of the planet nor its people,” the collection is exclusively made from sustainable recycled sterling silver and plated with high-quality 18K gold.

Julia Otilia’s Swirling Wind Collection is now available on her website and in selected stores.

About the Designer

Ever since she was a child, Swedish jewellery designer and goldsmith Julia Otilia has felt a special connection to nature. It was long summers spent barefoot on the islands of the Swedish Archipelago, foraging deep forests and contemplating the beautifully raw and untouched state of Swedish nature that have nurtured her creativity and artistry. With her jewellery, she aims to capture the delicate details of nature. It is especially the softness of organic shapes combined with minimalism and simplicity that reflect her elegant and timeless Scandinavian signature designs.

A sustainable philosophy is paramount to Julia Otilia. In alignment with her deep admiration for nature, the designer exclusively works with sustainable and recycled materials. In 2020, the designer decided to set up her own gold smithing atelier in her design studio in Utrecht, The Netherlands. This allowed her to dedicate more time and attention to crafting her jewellery with utmost care and precision. Julia Otilia further believes in a slow and mindful lifestyle and releases her collections intermittently, whenever inspiration strikes her.

Julia Otilia's elegant and timeless jewellery creations can be found on her website, at art fairs and markets as well as in selected stores around Europe.
